SOLID UNDERSTANDING OF CRAFTSMANSHIP

ROBUST is a modern Swedish industrial group. We have been manufacturing and marketing an extensive range of construction and industrial components for customers throughout the whole of Europe since 1951.

Our head office is located in Karlstad in the county of Värmland. Production takes place at a number of locations in Sweden and abroad.

Activities are divided into two business areas.

Steel doors comprise a complete range of doors for public environments, industry and housing.

Industrial products offer quality equipment for industrial purposes. Lockable cabinets, lifting equipment as well as custom solutions for offices, mezzanines and wall systems. Industrial products also include our own production of rolled sections.

Professionalism, consideration and innovative thinking

WITHIN THE ROBUST GROUP we work according to three brief but clear values: Professionalism, consideration and innovative thinking. These are the important guiding stars that help us in our development. They also support us internally and in our contacts with the world about us.

Professionalism means that each time we meet our customers it is on a serious level. Listening to demands and wishes and thereby producing high-quality products. Managing production and day-to-day contacts effectively and delivering at the right time. Professionalism applies obviously also to what we do internally where collaboration between employees is permeated by clarity and responsibility.

Consideration is also an important part of our everyday lives. At all levels. We benefit from mutual respect and a pleasant attitude. Likewise it is the responsibility of each individual to do their best when help is needed. Commitment and consideration has made Robust a workplace where people are happy. You can be sure that this also has a positive impact on contacts with our customers.

Innovative thinking means nurturing a corporate atmosphere where each employee is encouraged to submit new ideas and suggestions. Supporting those who grasp the initiative and are prepared to take the lead gives us the driving force for continued development.

With a professional attitude and a positive corporate climate we are well-equipped to face the future.

Who can beat a professional who knows his or her job, who engages those around in a respectful manner and delivers the highest quality?

Quality products of steel

THE ROBUST GROUP'S BUSINESS CONCEPT is based on the acquisition of small to medium-sized engineering companies and developing them through active and long-term ownership. Our companies will refine raw materials, primarily steel, into finished products or as constituent materials for other activities within industry and construction.

A significant component of our product portfolio comprises steel doors – security doors, fire doors and lift doors that are marketed under the product name of Robust. It is in this sector that we are one of the market's absolute leaders of today. Sales are managed through our own sales companies or through installation companies, construction companies or wholesalers.

Components are another important area where we offer a broad range that is directed primarily at European industries. The range includes storage cabinets, mezzanines, wall systems and portable offices.

The group also has its own production of rolled sections. Special sections are available in most materials and are tailored for customers in industry, construction and fitting out.

» ROBUST refines constituent materials made of steel. The products are marketed through subsidiaries and established sales channels to property owners, commercial premises, construction and industry. We have customers throughout Europe.

Solid craftsmanship and modern technology

ROBUST GROUP is a modern industrial group with highly-developed technology. Production is being automated as time goes by but the group is still a craft industry. The company's roots are deep and the activity's branches have been around for more than 100 years.

Craftsmanship skills are extensive and many of our employees have been with us for a long time. Solid industrial knowledge in combination with new technology provides us with the best possible starting point for producing products and services of the highest quality.

Quality is an obvious key word that extends like a red core throughout our activities. Our companies are also certified according to the relevant quality standards such as ISO 9001. The same applies to the majority of our suppliers and collaboration partners.

We are also committed to carrying out our activities according to guidelines where the greatest consideration is given to the environment. The companies are environmentally-certified according to ISO 14001:2004.

The Robust Group

THE ROBUST GROUP is committed to continuous development. Today we have modern production units in the Swedish towns of Nykroppa, Säffle and Örebro as well as Cheadle in England. We also have sales companies in Norway.

All the Nordic countries as well as the rest of Europe are important markets. Step by step our products are finding new outlets in other exciting markets around the world.

Today the group has approximately 180 employees and a turnover exceeding SEK 300 million.
